Welcome to the Holiday Bowl

"America's Most Exciting Bowl Game" has grown and prospered over the last six years . . . and the festivities and fun that accompany such an event have grown as well.

Holiday Bowl Week has become an integral part of the holiday season in San Diego — an event that San Diegans look forward to and participate in wholeheartedly.

During the week, San Diegans are proud to play host to the teams and the thousands of fans who visit our city to support them in the Holiday Bowl. The warmhearted hospitality and holiday spirit shown to our visitors has been a highlight of the Holiday Bowl experience for them.

From all of us who have worked together to bring you Holiday Bowl 7, good wishes for tonight's game and for the remainder of the holiday season.

We hope you have enjoyed your stay in San Diego and that you will return often to visit us.

Happy Holidays, and may the excitement, fun and good feeling of Holiday Bowl week stay with you until we gather again for next year's game.

Best Wishes
James B. Kuhn

TONIGHT'S GAME CLIMAXES WEEKLONG FESTIVAL OF EVENTS

Tonight's exciting football game, Holiday Bowl 7, climaxes a busy week of Holiday Bowl events.

In the years since the first Holiday Bowl, the list of associated activities has increased dramatically, as the Bowl has become a holiday season fixture in San Diego.

"The Holiday Bowl has become an important event for San Diegans, and the involvement of the community has grown through these other Holiday Bowl week activities," said 1984 Holiday Bowl president Jim Kuhn. "We're extremely pleased with the interest shown in the entire Holiday Bowl Week and all of the various activities."

The newest event on the Holiday

Bowl calendar was the Holiday Bowl Gymnastics Classic, which took place last weekend. This was a United States Gymnastics Federation sanctioned age group competition for elite level and Class I women gymnasts, which took place at the Women's Gym at San Diego State University. The top 10 finishers in each event on Saturday advanced to Sunday's exciting finals.

Also taking place last Saturday was the Holiday Bowl/Frontier Airlines 10K Run, which started and finished at San Diego Jack Murphy Stadium. The race featured the champion male and female cross country runners from each member school of the Western Athletic Conference, and top runners from the San Diego area. The race benefited the YMCA.

The Holiday Bowl Music Festival, featuring the finest high school bands from throughout the Western United States, started on Wednesday with field competition at San Diego State's Aztec Bowl. Earlier today, the bands paraded through Balboa Park. A grand entry march prior to tonight's game and combined band rendition of the national anthem will climax this activity, now in its second year.

Yesterday at the noon hour, the players and coaches from both teams gathered with nearly 2,000 fans for the Holiday Bowl Kickoff Luncheon, sponsored annually by the San Diego Kiwanis Club at the Town and Country Hotel in Mission Valley.

Last night, The Sheraton Harbor Island Hotel was the site of the Holiday Bowl Poinsettia Ball. The black tie gathering enjoyed gourmet dining and a fabulous performance by the Air Force Academy's stage show troupe, Moods in Blue. This was the fourth year that the musical group has dazzled the Poinsettia Ball audience.

Another highlight of last night's Ball was the crowning of the 1984 Holiday Bowl Queen, Candi Marchese, by Sharlene Wells, the 1983 Holiday Bowl Queen and reigning Miss America.

The only Holiday Bowl Week event remaining on the schedule after tonight's game will be the traditional San Diego Bay Holiday Parade of Lights. Brightly lighted and decorated boats parade along the Embarcadero from Seaport Village to Shelter Island. Holiday Bowl officials will assist in judging the annual competition for best decorated boats.

That event will complete the Holiday Bowl Festival for another year. Next year, there will be another exciting football game . . . and even more Holiday Bowl Festival events.

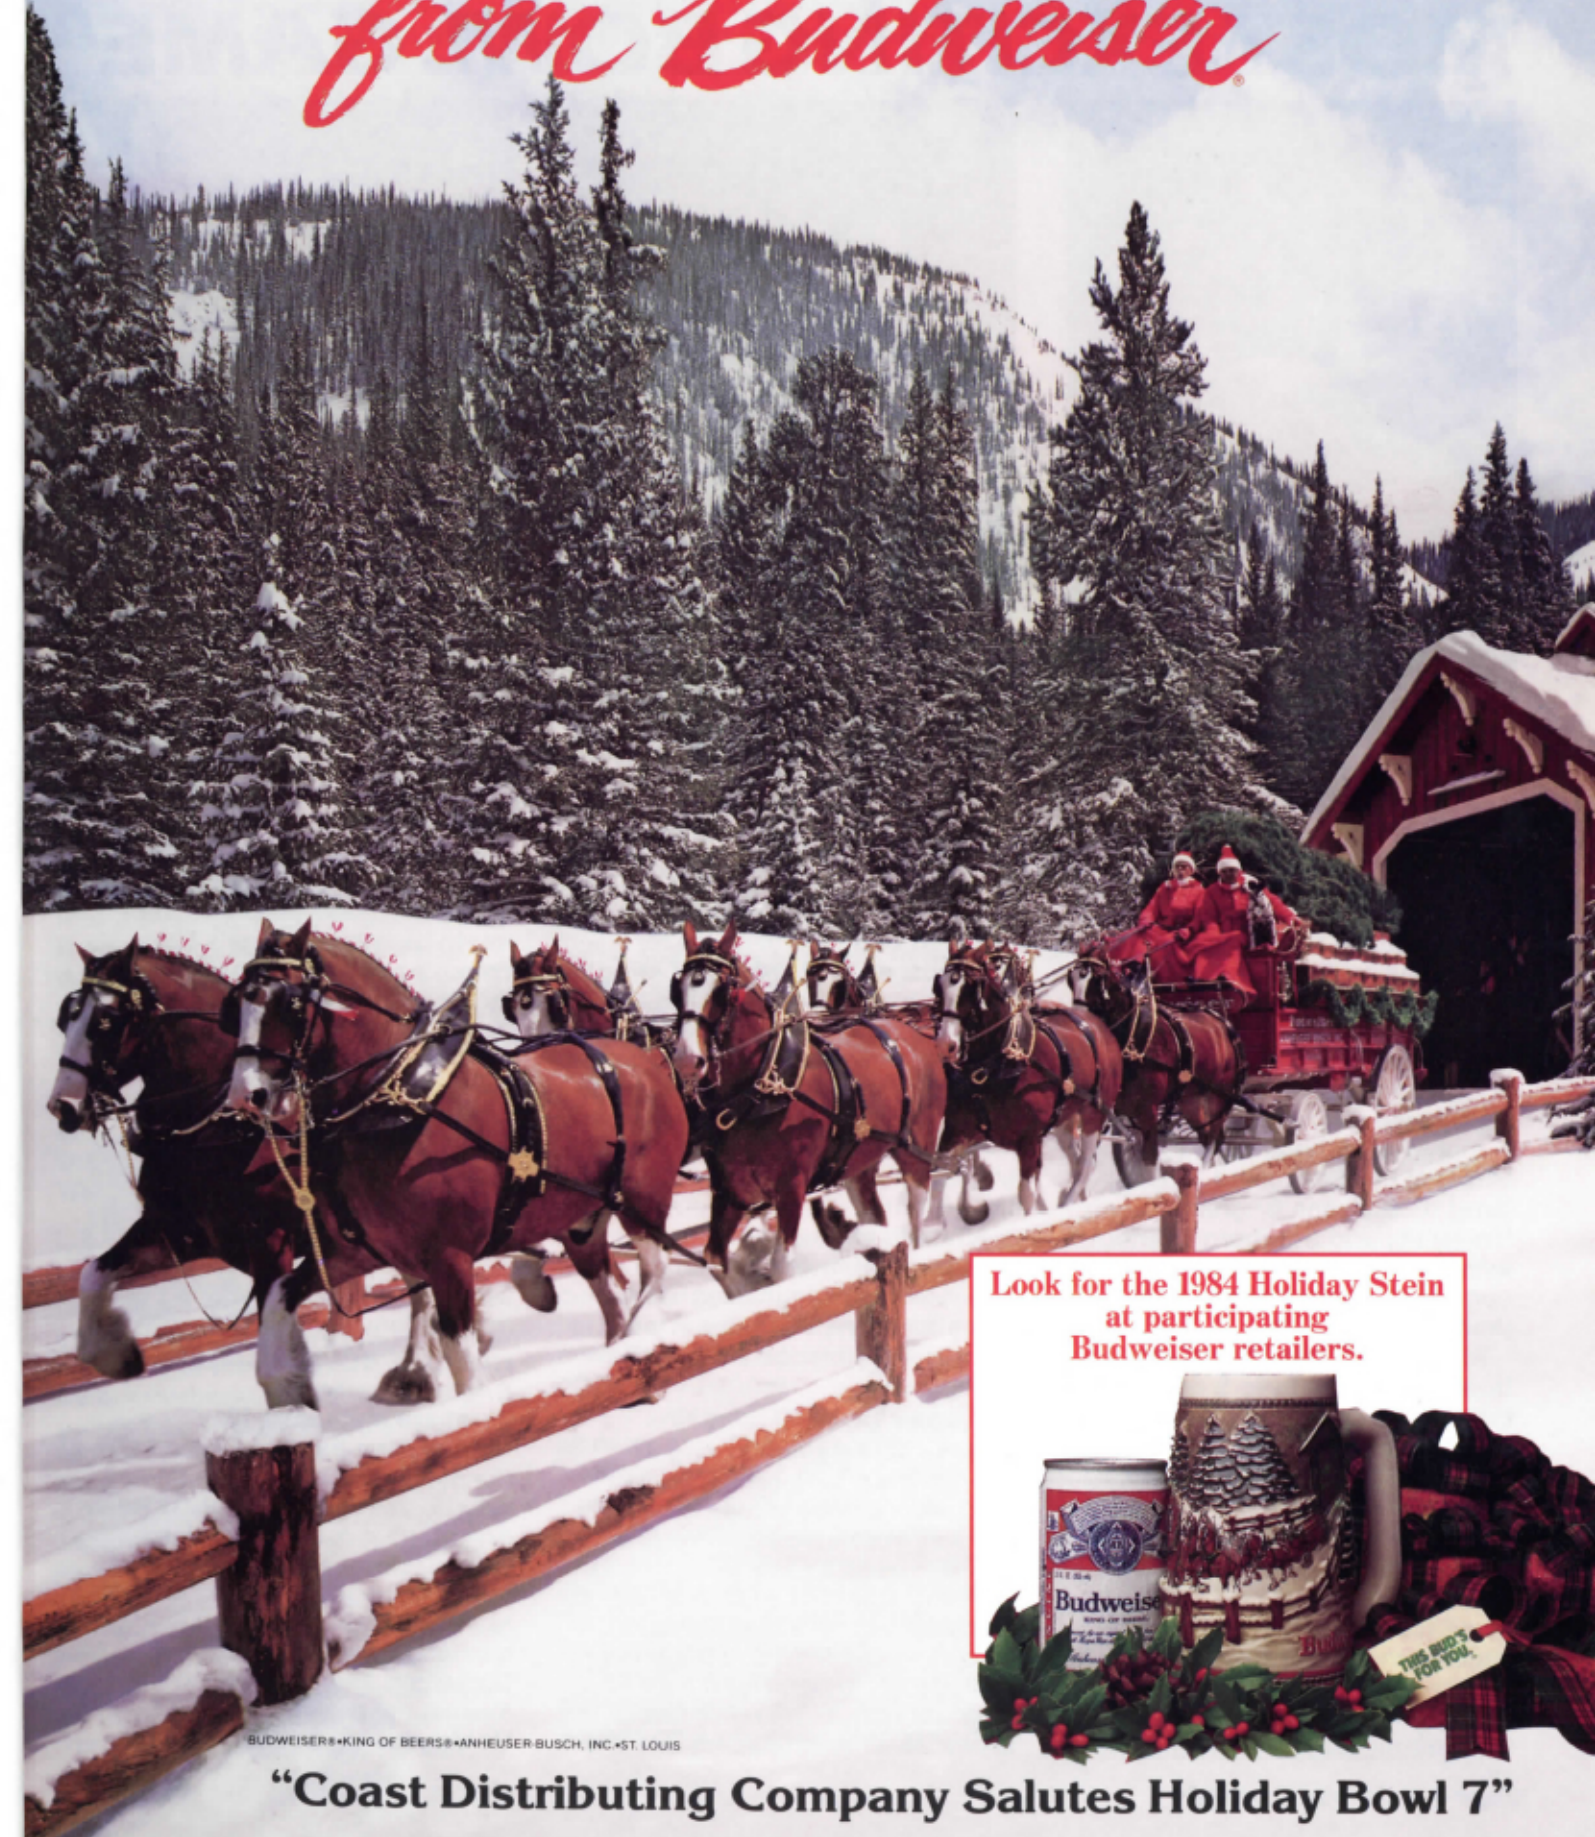

Kiwanis Kickoff Luncheon.

FABULOUS FINISHES — THE STORY OF "AMERICA'S MOST EXCITING BOWL GAME"

BYU's Clay Brown outwrestles SMU defenders for game-winning catch in 1980 Holiday Bowl.

If there is one lesson that fans have learned from the first six Holiday Bowl football games, it is "don't leave early."

The Holiday Bowl has earned its reputation as America's Most Exciting Bowl Game with a series of wide-open, exciting games . . . most of which have gone to the final seconds before a decision has been reached.

Included in the first six Holiday Bowls is the 1980 game, Holiday Bowl III, between Brigham Young University and Southern Methodist, which is one of the classic comeback performances of all time.

All but one of the first six Holiday Bowl games has been a down-to-the-wire thriller. Let's take a look at six years of Holiday Bowl history, and some of the fourth quarter heroics that have taken place.

HOLIDAY BOWL I — 1978 Navy 23, Brigham Young 16

This game established the comeback pattern that was to become the Holiday Bowl trademark.

Brigham Young jumped off to a 9-3 halftime lead, and an early third period touchdown by the Cougars gave BYU a seemingly comfortable 16-3 lead.

Navy scored a touchdown late in the third period, and drove for a field goal early in the final period to close the gap to 16-13. Then Navy quarterback Bob Leszczynski and wide receiver Phil McConkey hooked up on a 65-yard touchdown pass — still a Holiday Bowl record for longest completion — to put the Midshipmen ahead for the first time, 20-16.

A late field goal and some stubborn defense that held off a last-minute BYU threat saved the game for Navy, and put the word "comeback" into the Holiday Bowl vocabulary.

HOLIDAY BOWL II — 1979 Indiana 38, Brigham Young 37

Brigham Young took a perfect 11-0 record into Holiday Bowl II, but was frustrated again by fourth quarter heroics.

The Cougars of BYU and visiting Hoosiers put on a big offensive display throughout this back-and-forth game. Indiana held a 21-17 halftime lead, but BYU rallied to take a 34-31 lead heading into the fourth quarter.

Brent Johnson's third field goal of the game gave BYU a 37-31 lead, which they held deep into the fourth quarter. Indiana's Tim Wilbur turned the game around, however, with a 62-yard punt return touchdown that tied the score at 37-37. Kevin Kellogg's pressure PAT put Indiana ahead, 38-37, with little time left.

BYU made a furious comeback attempt, and drove down the field. With only six seconds left on the clock, BYU's Johnson attempted a 27-yard field goal which sailed wide — preserving Indiana's come-from-behind victory.

HOLIDAY BOWL III — 1980 Brigham Young 46, Southern Methodist 45

This game has been called one of the most exciting college games ever played, and certainly rates as one of the most spectacular comebacks ever recorded.

The game matched the strong rushing attack of the SMU Mustangs, headed by Eric Dickerson and Craig James, against the passing of BYU's Jim McMahon.

For three quarters, SMU appeared to be too strong for the Cougars, and held a 38-19 lead heading into the final period. The teams traded fourth period touchdowns, and SMU held a comfortable 20-point lead, 45-25, with only 3:58 to play. That's when the fans started to leave the stadium, and when the fun started for BYU.

McMahon led the Cougars to a quick touchdown, cutting the lead to 45-31. A successful on-side kick and three-play touchdown drive cut the lead to 45-39 with 1:57 left to play.

BYU had no time outs remaining, and when SMU recovered the on-side kick attempt, things looked dim for the Cougars.

SMU failed to make a first down in its attempt to run out the clock, and the Mustangs were forced to punt the ball away with less than 30 seconds left to play. BYU's Bill Schoepflin blocked the punt, and the Cougars recovered at the SMU 41 with only 18 seconds remaining, and no way to stop the clock with time outs.

Two incomplete passes into the end zone reduced the clock to three seconds, and McMahon launched a long, high bomb into the end zone on the game's final play. BYU's Clay Brown went high into the air and literally wrestled the ball away from three SMU defenders for the game-tying touchdown. With no time left on the clock, sophomore kicker Kurt Gunther kicked the extra point to give BYU a 46-45 win.

HOLIDAY BOWL IV — 1981 Brigham Young 38, Washington State 36

The fourth Holiday Bowl matched BYU against a Washington State team that had contended for Pacific 10 championship honors until the final weekend of the season. BYU, led by quarterback Jim McMahon, jumped off to a 24-7 lead at the half. A 35-yard interception return for a touchdown gave the Cougars a 31-7 lead just one minute into the second half, and the game looked like a runaway for BYU.

Washington State's powerful running attack started to click, however, and scrambling quarterback Ricky Turner led WSU on three touchdown drives in the third quarter to cut the BYU lead to 31-28, with the entire fourth quarter to play.

McMahon padded the lead by taking BYU on a quick touchdown drive that culminated with a score on the first play of the fourth quarter to make the score 38-28.

WSU rallied for a score with just over five minutes left to play, and a two-point conversion cut the score to 38-36.

The pivotal play of the game took place with just over two minutes to play and BYU facing a key third down and one situation. McMahon fumbled the snap from center, but recovered the ball and turned the near-disaster into a five-yard gain and a game-clinching first down.

HOLIDAY BOWL V — 1982 Ohio State 47, Brigham Young 17

The fifth Holiday Bowl matched BYU against the Buckeyes from Ohio State, and proved to be a long evening for the Cougars. Ohio State entered the game in a surly mood. Although they had beaten Big Ten arch-rival Michigan several weeks earlier, Michigan had earned the Rose Bowl bid by virtue of a better league percentage, and the Buckeyes were anxious to prove they were best.

The first half was played fairly evenly, with Ohio State holding a 17-10 lead at the intermission. The Buckeyes, behind the strong running of Tim Spencer, broke the game open with 17 points in the third quarter.

HOLIDAY BOWL VI — 1983 Brigham Young 21, Missouri 17

Last year's Holiday Bowl game matched Steve Young and BYU's incredible offense against the tough Missouri Tigers from the Big Eight Conference.

Young and the Cougars had run up an amazing offensive record during the season, leading the nation and setting NCAA records in numerous passing and total offense categories.

This game, however, started off as more of a defensive battle. Missouri led, 10-7, at the half as Young had trouble getting his passing attack moving against the Tigers. A third period touchdown gave BYU a 14-10 lead heading into the final period as neither team took a definite advantage.

Missouri started to assert itself in the fourth quarter. Eric Drain scored on a two-yard plunge early in the final period to give Missouri a 17-14 advantage. The Tigers drove deep into BYU territory late in the quarter and seemed ready to put the game out of reach.

Faced with a fourth-and-one situation on the BYU seven yard line, the Tigers elected to go for the first down and were stopped short on a key defensive play for the Cougars.

BYU took over the ball on its own seven with 3:57 left to play, and Young started his team on the comeback trail. Two key completions to Mike Eddo helped BYU move the ball into Missouri territory and set up the two game-winning plays.

With fourth down and 10 yards to go on the Missouri 25, and half a minute to play, Young completed a pressure pass to Waymon Hamilton for 11 yards and a first down at the Missouri 14.

With only 23 seconds to play, Young took the snap from center and handed the ball to running back Eddie Stinnet, who was sweeping toward the right side. Stinnet started the run, then pulled up and lofted a high pass back across the field toward Young. The pass barely cleared the fingertips of Missouri's Bobby Bell on its way to Young, who grabbed it and eluded two defenders on his way into the end zone for the winning touchdown.

It was another fitting climax for the Holiday Bowl — where Fabulous Finishes have become the rule rather than the exception.

This year's game? Who knows what will happen. Just don't leave early, no matter what the score might be.

What's black and white

and fun all over?

ANSWER: It's Shamu,™ the killer whale whose accomplishments go beyond anything we ever dreamed possible. It's The Penguin Encounter,™ the most-talked-about new attraction in America, a cross section of Antarctica so real that 400 penguins call it home. It's hours of ever-changing shows, dozens of adventures and thousands of sea creatures to discover and touch and feed. It's a day that overflows with laughing, learning, loving... and sharing with those you love. You guessed it—it's Sea World on beautiful Mission Bay in San Diego. So you see, deciding where to go while you're in San Diego is easy. The answer's right here...in black and white.

SAN DIEGO JACK MURPHY STADIUM

Tonight's Holiday Bowl crowd will establish a new attendance high for the seven-year-old bowl game . . . because of the excitement generated by the game, and because of the completion of the expansion program at San Diego Jack Murphy Stadium.

The 17-year-old Stadium has undergone a program which has increased its capacity for football from just under 53,000 fans to 60,100.

The Stadium stands on a 166-acre site less than a mile from the Mission San Diego de Alcalá — the birthplace of California — which was established in 1769 by Father Junipero Serra.

The Stadium was approved by the voters of San Diego by an overwhelming majority in the November election of 1965, and groundbreaking was December 24, 1965.

The $27.75 million facility was dedicated on August 20, 1967, as the San Diego Chargers and Detroit Lions met in a National Football League pre-season game. The Stadium was re-named in honor of Jack Murphy, late sports editor of the San Diego Union, on December 22, 1980.

It is 109 feet from the field level to the highest seating row, and 146 feet from the field level to the top of the light ring.

Stadium lighting is accomplished through 365 incandescent fixtures (5,000 watt) and 800 metallic arc fixtures (1,000 watt).

Here are some of the important stadium facilities:

FIRST AID — Emergency assistance is available by contacting the nearest usher or security person. The main first aid center is located on the Plaza Level at Gate F.

LOST AND FOUND — The security office and lost and found are located on the Plaza Level near Gate F.

PARKING — There are 17,000 marked parking stalls and 250 bus spaces. There are also 100 handicapped parking spaces available in the front row of the stadium parking lot.

FOOD AND BEVERAGE — There are 53 concession stands throughout the Stadium, along with a Hofbrau and an open garden restaurant located at Aisle 21 on the Upper Level.

FIELD ADMITTANCE — Only team personnel, media and stadium employees are authorized to be on the field at any time; anyone going on the field without proper authorization is subject to expulsion from the Stadium and prosecution.

THE MOST ADVANCED PIECE OF MACHINERY IN SHAVING HISTORY.

NORELCO CHALLENGES THE WORLD

The Norelco Rotatract® razor is so advanced, it challenges the world. Every blade, every electric, every shaving instrument ever made. In closeness, comfort, speed and performance.

holds a charge up to three times longer than any leading razor. And it features battery sensor lights that conveniently tell you when the razor needs charging.

THE TWIN-ACTION SYSTEM

All Norelco Rotatracts feature the patented twin-action shaving system with 45 lifters and 45 cutting blades. The lifter grips and raises the whisker; the blade follows and instantly cuts the raised hair.

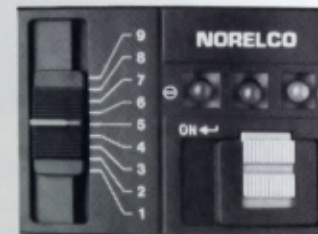

The result—a remarkably close shave, with never a nick or cut.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Academically, University of Michigan ranks among the foremost universities in America.

A recent survey of professional school deans rated Michigan in the top 10 in 13 of the 18 professional areas surveyed, "the best overall record" in the words of the Los Angeles Times. The survey found "Five universities with outstanding reputations — Berkeley, Chicago, Columbia, Harvard and Michigan — have the greatest number of top-ranking professional schools."

The school was originally chartered by the Territory of Michigan in 1817 as the Catholepistemiad of Michigania, located in Detroit. The State of Michigan issued a new charter in 1837, when the university was reorganized and moved to Ann Arbor.

Today, University of Michigan has a total enrollment of 46,487, with 34,432 at the Ann Arbor campus. There are 17 schools and colleges at the Ann Arbor campus, with five more at Dearborn and two at Flint.

Michigan's schools and colleges cover the spectrum of human knowledge. The alumni include some 270,000 degree holders, including the three-man crew of Apollo 15.

During 1981-82, sponsored research volume at Michigan totaled nearly $130 million. Projects ranged from abstract theoretical studies of the atom to methods of reducing the number and severity of highway accidents. The monthly survey of consumer sentiment is a nationally respected barometer of the nation's economic health. Practical holography or three-dimensional photography was invented at Michigan, while the scholarly renowned Middle English Dictionary is being compiled on the campus.

MICHIGAN WOLVERINES' MARCH TO THE BOWL

MICHIGAN 22, Miami, Fla. 14 Sept. 8 at Ann Arbor Att. - 105,403

The defending National Champion University of Miami Hurricanes rolled into Ann Arbor ranked #1 after victories over Florida and Auburn. Michigan welcomed the top-ranked team by intercepting six passes and recovering two fumbles. The Wolverines went ahead for good on a Bob Perryman touchdown run in the third period. Rodney Lyles led the Michigan defense by intercepting three Bernie Kosar passes. A balanced Wolverine attack gained 179 yards rushing and 163 passing. Jim Harbaugh completed 11 of 21 passes, while Kosar was 16 for 38.

Washington 20, MICHIGAN 11 Sept. 15 at Ann Arbor Att. - 103,072

An extremely tough Washington defense stifled the Wolverine offense and handed Michigan its first defeat of the year. A 73-yard touchdown pass from Hugh Millen to Mark Pattison midway through the third quarter broke open a close game, giving the Huskies a 17-3 lead. A Washington pass interception in the second quarter led to a 25-yard touchdown drive that put Washington up 10-3 at the half. Michigan outgained the Huskies, and again showed good offensive balance, with 167 yards rushing and 183 yards passing.

MICHIGAN 20, Wisconsin 14 Sept. 22 at Ann Arbor Att. - 104,239

Turnovers played a key role in Michigan's victory over Wisconsin, as the Wolverines recovered five fumbles and intercepted a pass in their Big Ten opener. The Badgers turned the ball over on each of their first four possessions, and Michigan took advantage to build a 10-0 lead at the half. Wisconsin scored on its first play of the second half to cut the lead to 10-7, but the Wolverines marched 80 yards for a touchdown on the next series to take a 17-7 lead. The Wolverine defense held off a last-minute Wisconsin rally to save the 20-14 victory. Freshman Jamie Morris accounted for 220 yards, 138 of them rushing.

MICHIGAN 14, Indiana 6 Sept. 29 at Bloomington, Ind. Att. - 38,729

Michigan worked hard for its second Big Ten win, turning two long touchdown drives and tenacious defense into a 14-6 win. The Wolverines drove 89 yards in 16 plays in the first quarter, with Bob Perryman capping the drive with a two-yard touchdown run. In the third quarter, Jim Harbaugh cashed in an 80-yard, 20-play drive with a four-yard scoring pass to Eddie Garrett. Michigan's defense sparkled again, with three interceptions and two quarterback sacks, while the offense ran up 390 yards. Harbaugh completed 14 of 18 passes for 135 yards.

Michigan State 19, MICHIGAN 7 Oct. 6 at Ann Arbor Att. - 105,612

The Wolverines' season suffered a severe blow in the third quarter of this game when starting quarterback Jim Harbaugh dove for a fumbled ball and was injured when hit by a Michigan State defender. He was out for the season with a broken arm. At the time of the injury, Harbaugh was leading the Wolverines to a possible game-tying touchdown. After his injury, the Wolverines managed only 46 total yards in the final 22 minutes of the game. Michigan State had taken a 13-0 lead after a long scoring drive and an 87-yard punt return by Bobby Morse. Michigan cut the lead to 13-7 before the half on a long scoring drive, but couldn't muster enough offense to catch the Spartans.

Iowa 26, MICHIGAN 0 Oct. 20 at Iowa City, Iowa Att. - 66,025

Michigan and Iowa both entered the game with 3-1 Big Ten records in the season's first big showdown in the conference. The Hawkeyes combined a balanced offense, led by quarterback Chuck Long, with an opportunistic defense to hand the Wolverines their first shutout since 1977. Key play of the game took place in the third period with Iowa leading 12-0. Michigan had a first down and goal on the Iowa 5-yard line, when Russ Rein's pass was intercepted at the Iowa 2 and returned 75 yards to the Michigan 21-yard line. Iowa went on to score on a short drive and put the game out of reach.

MICHIGAN 26, Illinois 18 Oct. 27 at Ann Arbor Att. - 104,916

Michigan utilized a ball-hawking defensive effort and strong ground game to win a tough game. The Wolverines set the tone on the game's first play, as Illinois quarterback Jack Trudeau's pass was deflected and intercepted by Rodney Lyles, leading to the Michigan touchdown. Ahead 13-10 at the half, the Wolverines took the second half kickoff and marched 62 yards for a touchdown to take a 20-10 lead. A fumble recovery and pass interception by the Wolverine defense led to two Bob Bergeron field goals which put the game out of reach. Bergeron kicked four field goals, a Michigan single-game record.

Purdue 31, MICHIGAN 29 Nov. 3 at West Lafayette, Ind. Att. - 60,159

A great Wolverine comeback in the fourth quarter came close, but Purdue won this exciting game that featured great passing performances by both quarterbacks. Michigan's Chris Zurbrugg completed 21 of 30 passes for 259 yards, while Purdue's Jim Everett completed 23 of 32 for 290 yards. Purdue took a 24-0 lead at the half, but the Wolverines drove for a touchdown early in the third quarter. Purdue made the score 31-7 midway through the final quarter with an 87-yard drive. Zurbrugg passed for three touchdowns in the final four minutes of the game to pull the Wolverines to within a field goal of victory, but time ran out on Michigan.

MICHIGAN 31, Minnesota 7 Nov. 10 at Ann Arbor Att. - 101,247

Michigan got back to a winning formula, combining tough defense and a strong running attack to dominate Minnesota and capture the Little Brown Jug. The Wolverines piled up 304 yards rushing, including 125 by Jamie Morris. Morris had a 68-yard run, the longest of the season for Michigan. Minnesota scored first when quarterback Rickey Foggie rolled right for 23 yards, then lateraled to Gary Couch, who ran the remaining 22 yards for the score. From there on, it was all Michigan, as the Wolverines ran off 31 straight points.

Ohio State 21, MICHIGAN 6 Nov. 17 at Columbus, Ohio Att. - 90,286

Ohio State earned a trip to the Rose Bowl by scoring a pair of late touchdowns to break open this close, hard-fought game. The statistics in the game indicate the closeness of the play. Ohio State drove 61 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter to open a 7-0 lead, but a pair of Bob Bergeron field goals closed it to 7-6 in the third quarter. Bergeron missed a 34-yard attempt that would have put the Wolverines ahead in the closing minutes of the third quarter. Keith Byars scored on a two-yard run with 6:12 left to play, then scored again moments later after Michigan fumbled in its own territory.

COACH "BO" SCHEMBECHLER

Glenn E. "Bo" Schembechler, the dean of Big Ten coaches, has earned the right to be called one of college football's all-time great coaches.

He smiles in a humble way when he is described in that manner, and he would be the first to tell you that he isn't the reason for the high level of success that the Michigan football program has achieved. He would speak in glowing terms of his coaching staff and of the fine student-athletes he has had the opportunity to coach. His loyalty to Michigan is matched only by the success he has achieved at the Ann Arbor campus. One can't deny that he has been the major reason for the success of the Michigan football program in the last sixteen seasons.

The following achievements need to only be listed to see that Bo is indeed one of the finest coaches in the nation.

- A career won-lost record at Michigan of 146-36-3, a sparkling .802 winning percentage. Including his six year tenure as coach at Miami of Ohio (1963-68), he has an overall record of 186-53-6 in 22 years as a head coach, the most wins among all active coaches.
- Not one losing season in 22 years as a head coach.
- Eight of his sixteen teams at Michigan have won ten or more games in a season.
- Thirteen of his sixteen teams at Michigan have been ranked in the Top Ten in the final wire service polls (AP and/or UPI).
- Ten of his sixteen teams have either won or tied for the Big Ten championship.
- Twelve of his sixteen Wolverine units have gone to bowl games, including seven Rose Bowl appearances and trips to the Orange Bowl, Gator Bowl, Bluebonnet Bowl, Sugar Bowl and Holiday Bowl. Michigan has appeared in a bowl game each of the last ten years.
- During the 1970's his regular season record of 96-10-3 was the finest in the nation.
- He has a sparkling 85.2% (110-19-1) winning record against Big Ten opponents.
- He was named national Coach of the Year in 1969 as well as Mid-

American Coach of the Year in 1965 and Big Ten Coach of the Year in 1972 and 1980, and UPI Big Ten Coach of the Year in 1982.

- Currently Past-President of the American Football Coaches Association.
- During the 1970's, his teams were ranked eighth or higher in seven national statistical categories including first in won-lost record (96-10-3), first in rushing defense (106.6), first in total defense (226.3) and first in scoring defense (8.04).
- Thirty-one different Michigan players have achieved first-team

All-American honors under Schembechler.

- Seventy-eight different players have earned first-team All-Big Ten honors at Michigan during his coaching reign.

- His 146 career wins at Michigan makes him the second winningest all-time coach in the school's history, next to Fielding Yost's 165 victories.

Schembechler was a prep football all-stater at Barberton (Ohio) High School. He continued his football career at Miami of Ohio where he was an offensive tackle for three seasons. He played under George Blackburn and Woody Hayes. He was also a fine lefthander for the Miami baseball team.

He graduated in 1951 and received a master's degree in 1952 at Ohio State where he served as a graduate assistant coach. After serving in the U.S. Army, he was a line coach at Presbyterian College in 1954, a line coach at Bowling Green in 1955, then joined Ara Parseghian's staff at Northwestern in 1958 before serving for the next five seasons as an assistant at Ohio State. He was appointed head football coach at Miami of Ohio in 1963, a position he held until taking over the Michigan program prior to the 1969 campaign.

Bo and his wife, Millie, have four children: Chip, Geoff, Matt and Shemy.

MALLORY — QUIET BUT AGGRESSIVE

By Martha Crall

Mike Mallory is the quiet type.

Michigan's co-captain and leading tackler for the past two seasons, he's not one to make mention of such accolades. If he talks at all, it might be about family, or loyalty or pride. Then it might take two minutes, maybe less.

If there were ever a leader by example, it is Mike Mallory. His performance on the field has been speaking for him for quite a while now, as he is credited with 274 tackles, good for 10th on Michigan's all-time list. He still has a year to play, too.

Mallory finds himself in a rather odd situation, in that the academic senior and co-captain is only a junior athletically and will return for his last season of football after already serving as a "senior" captain.

"The fact that he is coming back is great for us," said head coach Bo Schembechler. "When you talk about a football player and you see him play, you can tell this kid is for real."

Not much for aggression off the field, it is Mallory's forte on. A 6-2, 217-pound inside linebacker, he is a bone-crushing tackler who rarely misses his mark, as borne out by his 89 solo tackles and 51 assists in 1984. The 140 total placed him fourth in the Big Ten and earned him first team All-Big Ten honors, the only Wolverine named to the top squad this season.

A second team All-Big Ten performer last season, Mallory capped off this banner year with Michigan's Most Valuable Player award.

"The award means a great deal to me," Mallory said. "It is a great honor to be able to make a contribution to your team. I'm thinking about next year, how I have to get better and improve. There is room for improvement. As long as the team does well, I'm not concerned about the personal things."

The "personal things" keep coming his way, though — tributes to, if not proof of, his excellence. Mallory was also given the Ernest T. Siegler award by the M Club of Chicago for being the outstanding Wolverine athlete from the Chicago area this year. Mallory is from nearby DeKalb, Illinois.

Mallory's mind is now on the Holiday Bowl and number one Brigham Young . . . and on vindication for a Michigan season that, at 6-5, was the most mediocre in recent memory. The failures of the season weigh heavily on Mallory's mind, but his pride in the positive moments lingers, too.

"We didn't accomplish a lot of the things that we set out to do at the beginning of the season," he said. "But we did have some great moments, like beating Miami (then rated number one) and Illinois. Those were big wins for us and with a strong performance in the Ohio State game, I hope we can carry that over to the Holiday Bowl."

A coach's kid, Mallory was on the go during his growing-up years as the family moved wherever father Bill was coaching. Now the head coach at Indiana, Bill was involved in a strange situation with sons Mike and Doug, a defensive back at Michigan.

It was a mother's nightmare, with a husband coaching one team against the team two sons play for. Michigan beat Indiana, 14-6, in Bloomington and Mike had nine tackles and one of his two pass interceptions of the season.

Mallory said his highlight of 1984, however, was beating Illinois. He played an outstanding game, making 14 tackles.

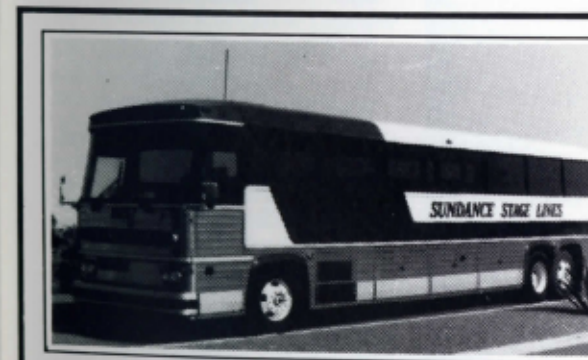

"That was a great game," Mallory recalls. "It felt good because they beat us last year and that was a big loss for us. To come back and beat them was very satisfying."

Unfortunately for the Wolverines, the Illinois game provided one of the relatively few highlights this season. For an intensely competitive guy like Mallory, there was little consolation.

"Hopefully we can learn from it," Mallory said. "If we can treat it like a character-builder, maybe we can come back. We have to work very hard, though. It's not a fun way to learn something."

Mallory sees the opportunity that Michigan's last game of 1984 offers. Playing a top-rated team like Brigham Young is more than he and the Wolverines ever expected.

"This is a great opportunity for us, and something we are looking forward to with great anticipation," said Mallory.

Mazda RX-7 GSL-SE
Mazda's rotary engine licensed by NSU-WANKEL.

THE MAZDA EXPERIENCE.

It begins when you compare Mazda cars and trucks to those of the competition.

We think you'll discover that when it comes to performance, quality, and value for the money, no one beats Mazda.

But while comparisons are enlightening, it is only after a thorough test-drive that the Mazda experience can be fully appreciated.

Experience the Mazda RX-7 GSL-SE. With a 6-port, fuel-injected 135 hp race-bred rotary engine, Pirelli P6 radials, and ventilated 4-wheel disc brakes, it's the fastest, most sophisticated RX-7 of them all.

Experience the Mazda 626. A series of high-quality, world-class road cars—and Motor

TONIGHT'S GAME

There's plenty of motivation for both Brigham Young University and University of Michigan in tonight's Seventh Holiday Bowl football game.

BYU carries an undefeated record (12-0) and the #1 Ranking in the football polls into the game. A Cougar victory would go a long way toward assuring them the "National Championship."

They'll be motivated to win, and to try and win as impressively as possible, to assure that the coaches and writers who will eventually decide the top-ranked team won't overlook them in the final polling.

For the Wolverines of Michigan, the Holiday Bowl presents an opportunity to end a difficult and disappointing season on a satisfying note. A victory over the #1 rated Cougars would make the season for Michigan.

While the BYU passing attack didn't run up the mind-boggling statistics that last year's juggernaut recorded, there was consistency. Robbie Bosco was over 200 yards passing in all 12 games this season, and BYU extended its record for consecutive games throwing a touchdown pass to 38.

On the other side of the line of scrimmage, the BYU defense played an important role in several victories. The experienced defense, led by All-American Kyle Morrell, allowed over 15 points only twice in 12 games.

For the Wolverines, a season that started with high hopes ended in disappointment as injuries took a toll.

Michigan opened the season by beating defending national champion Miami of Florida, 22-14, as they intercepted six Bernie Kosar passes. The following week, the Wolverines lost to Washington, 20-11, as the Huskies took the top spot in the rankings.

Quarterback Jim Harbaugh was lost for the season in a difficult loss to Michigan State, and then the Wolverines dropped road games at Iowa, Purdue and Ohio State to finish with a 6-5 mark.

A final note — BYU will be facing its third Big Ten team in seven

Kyle Morrell,
Brigham Young University

Glen Kozlowski,
Brigham Young University

Holiday Bowls, and will be looking for its first win. Indiana won Holiday Bowl II, 38-37, and Ohio State took the 1982 game, 47-17.

BYU's record entering the 1979 game against Indiana was 11-0, the only other time they have entered the game unbeaten.

PLAYERS TO WATCH BYU

Robbie Bosco (6) is the key to the Cougars passing attack. He'll be throwing to steady Glen Kozlowski (7) and speedy Adam Haysbert (1). Kelly Smith (21) is another key man for the Cougars, both running and catching the football.

Vai Sikahema (23) is the Cougars' kickoff and punt returner, and has made some key returns this season.

Defensively, All-American Kyle Morrell (5) is an important man, along with linebackers Leon White (41) and Kurt Gouveia (34). Nose guard Brad Smith (76) and tackle Jim Herrmann (92) will be key men in stopping Michigan's rushing attack.

MICHIGAN

Offensively, Michigan will be led by quarterback Chris Zurbrugg (12) who replaced started Jim Harbaugh early in the season. Starters in the backfield are Eddie Garrett (32), utilized mostly for blocking, and Rick Rogers (20). Breakaway threat Jamie Morris (23) led the Wolverines in rushing as a freshman.

Tight end Sim Nelson (95) was the leading receiver, followed by Vince Bean (25).

Defensively, linebacker Mike Mallory (42) is the ringleader, while his brother Doug (8) is the starting safety.

In the offensive line, sophomore tackle John Elliott (72) is a 6-7, 280-pounder . . . still a growing boy.

KICKERS

Both teams have excellent place kickers — Michigan's Bob Bergeron (19) and BYU's Lee Johnson (10).

HOLIDAY BOWL FOUNDERS

Even before the first Holiday Bowl football game was played on December 22, 1978, a group of businesses and individuals put together its resources to make sure the Holiday Bowl began with strong support from the community.

The San Diego Game Association is sincerely appreciative for the outstanding contributions made by these individuals and firms.

HERE'S ONE WAY TO BEAT OUR $100 SKI FLIGHT TO COLORADO.

It may be the only way. Because our $100 one way airfare to Grand Junction is quite a bargain. Especially when you consider that, for only $15 more, you'll be whisked off to Aspen, Snowmass, or Vail. On our exclusive ski shuttle bus.

You can forget about waiting for your bags or tracking down your ski gear, too. Because we see that it goes right along with you.

And if the runs at Steamboat Springs or Telluride peak your curiosity, you'll be able to catch a lift on their shuttle bus. Which also leaves right from Grand Junction.

So call your travel agent or Frontier. And tell them you can't think of a better way to put Rocky Mountain powder under your skis.

Saturday and Sunday ski-flights only. Effective dates: 12/15/84 to 4/7/85. Prices available on these flights only and are subject to change without notice. The ski-shuttle bus service is available from Grand Junction to conveniently located transportation centers.

BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY

With an enrollment of 26,000 students, Brigham Young University is the largest privately owned university in the country. More than 1,250 full-time faculty, 67% of whom hold doctorates from colleges throughout the United States and several foreign countries, instruct in 150 subject areas at the university's 13 colleges and graduate schools. Brigham Young University was founded in 1875 and is dedicated to the education of the whole person. The school strives to prepare its students for successful professional careers and personal lives by providing a proper balance between academia and religious instruction. The school is sponsored by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. Although 98% of the student body is Mormon, admission is open to those of any race, color, creed or national origin, provided they meet the university's academic requirements and their conduct conforms to the standards of the LDS Church. Utah Valley, located approximately 45 miles south of Salt Lake City, provides the backdrop for the 646-acre BYU campus. The 12,000-foot-high Wasatch Range rises immediately to the east of the campus and Utah Lake is only a few miles to the west.

COACH LAVELL EDWARDS

When LaVell Edwards took over the reins of BYU's football program 13 years ago, not even the most optimistic fans around Provo dreamed the Cougars would accomplish what they have done under his direction.

The 53-year-old coach-churchman-husband-father-grandfather-author-teacher-doctor has taken BYU from a team that had won the Western Athletic Conference trophy only one time in history to a team that hasn't relinquished it in nine years . . . and a team that reached Number One in the rankings in the season's final weeks and will have a strong case for the National championship with a Holiday Bowl victory tonight.

A look at the 1984 season is a good example of how LaVell, as he is called by almost everyone, has established himself as one of America's premier coaches. The Cougars finished the regular season with a 12-0 record and a first-place ranking in the polls, with the only unbeaten mark among major schools. They won their ninth consecutive WAC championship and are undefeated in 23 straight games going into tonight's action.

In 1984, Edwards' team became only the third college team ever to win 12 games in a season — Nebraska has done it twice.

The 1984 season has indeed been the culmination of a program that Edwards started at Brigham Young in 1972.

His 117-37-1 record (.755) ranks among the leaders in the nation's active coaches. BYU has won more games (63) in the past six seasons than any other Division I school in the country.

A 1952 graduate of Utah State, Edwards has added to his academic honors a master's degree from the University of Utah (1960) and an Ed.D. from BYU (1978). His attitude toward education is contagious in that three of his assistants have gone on to attain doctorates.

The offensive philosophy

practiced by Coach Edwards is one of high-powered offense and rugged defense. Under his guidance, BYU has led the nation in passing six times (1976, '77, '79, '80, '81 and '83), scoring (1979) and total offense (1979, '80 and '83).

In 1979, LaVell was recognized as national Coach-of-the-Year by two organizations: the Bobby Dodd Award Board and the Churchmen's Hall of Fame. Four times (1972, '79, '80 and '83) he has been selected WAC Coach-of-the-Year, and four times he has been Kodak District Eight Coach-of-the-Year (1974, '77, '79, '80). Some of the post-season bowl games he has coached include the Hula Bowl (twice), the Blue-Gray classic (twice), the East-West Shrine Game, the Japan Bowl and the Coaches' All-America Game.

Born in Orem, Utah, LaVell was raised not far from BYU's stadium. He graduated from Lincoln High School in Orem and attended Utah State, where he was a three-year letterman and captain of the football team. Twice he earned all-conference honors at center for the Aggies.

At USU he met his wife-to-be, Patti Covey. LaVell entered the Army, where he played on two service football teams, Fort Lee, Va., in 1952 and Fort Mead, Md., in 1953 as a player-coach with a 6-3 record.

His first coaching job was secured at Granite High School in Salt Lake City, where he coached from 1954-61 before joining Hal Mitchell's BYU staff in 1962. LaVell succeeded Tommy Hudspeth as head coach in 1972.

Edwards has coached more years, won more games and had a better winning percentage than any coach in Cougar football history. He is an active member of the College Football Association. His wife Patti, writes an occasional column for the (Provo) Daily Herald.

BYU COUGARS' MARCH TO THE BOWL

BRIGHAM YOUNG 20, Pittsburgh 14
Sept. 1 at Pittsburgh, Pa.
Att. - 40,263

BYU opened its season against a Pittsburgh Panther team which was rated third in the AP poll. The Cougars defense made a successful goal-line stand in the second quarter, then drove for a field goal and a 3-0 lead at halftime. Two Pitt pass interceptions in the third quarter led to back-to-back touchdowns, giving the Panthers a 14-3 lead midway through the third period. The Cougars started chipping away at the lead with a third-period touchdown and fourth quarter field goal. With 1:37 remaining, Robbie Bosco hit Adam Haysbert with a 50-yard touchdown pass to put the Cougars on top.

BRIGHAM YOUNG 47, Baylor 13
Sept. 8 at Provo
Att. - 63,705

BYU's aerial attack got rolling in this game, as Robbie Bosco threw six touchdown passes — two each to Glen Kozlowski, David Mills and Kelly Smith. Reserve running back Robert Parker netted 131 yards rushing, mostly in the second half. The Cougars avenged their only 1983 defeat by thumping the Bears. Twelve different receivers caught passes in this game, and the BYU defense came up with four interceptions. The Cougars achieve their highest national ranking ever following this game as Associated Press rated them sixth.

Att. - 64,327

Linebacker Marv Allen paced BYU's defense with two pass interceptions, while wide receiver Mark Bellini caught six passes from Robbie Bosco to lead the aerial game. Bosco led the Cougars with 21 yards rushing. Cougar return specialist Vai Sihakema opened each half with a Spectacular play — an 89-yard punt return on BYU's first possession and a 65-yard return of the second half kickoff. BYU jumped to fourth in the UPI poll.

BRIGHAM YOUNG 18, Hawaii 13
Sept. 22 at Honolulu
Att. - 50,000

BYU's defense made the big difference, with three different goal-line stands that denied touchdowns to the Rainbows. Late in the fourth quarter, the Cougars turned back four straight touchdown pass attempts. Linebacker Kyle Morrell stopped a quarterback sneak earlier in the fourth quarter and forced Hawaii to settle for a field goal that gave them a temporary lead. Glen Kozlowski caught nine passes for the Cougars including the game-winner in the fourth quarter. Co-captain Craig Garrick suffered a knee injury in the game.

BRIGHAM YOUNG 41, Wyoming 38
Oct. 13 at Provo
Att. - 64,839

The Cougars and Wyoming's Cowboys treated a BYU homecoming crowd to an exciting game. The lead changed hands throughout the third quarter, but Wyoming led through most of the fourth period until a late touchdown put BYU ahead to stay. The Cougars jumped off to a 14-0 lead, and led 21-20 at the half. Robbie Bosco threw five touchdown passes, including the game-winner — a 14 yard strike to Dave Mills — which culminated an 80-yard, 11-play drive. Mills caught three

Oct. 20 at Colorado Springs, Colo.
Att. - 30,469

The Cougars established a new school record with 18 consecutive victories by winning on ABC regional television. BYU took a 14-9 lead at the half, and stretched it to 21-9 with a touchdown just 27 seconds into the second half. Air Force closed the margin with a touchdown and field goal in the third quarter. The BYU defense stopped a two-point conversion attempt in the fourth quarter that would have tied the game, then drove for the game-clinching field goal. Robbie Bosco had his most productive day to date with 484 yards passing and four touchdowns. Dave Mills caught 10 passes for 225 yards on a snowy day.

BRIGHAM YOUNG 48, New Mexico 0
Oct. 25 at Albuquerque, N.M.
Att. - 19,277

In a rare Thursday night game, which was switched for national television exposure on ESPN, the Cougars logged their first shutout in 38 games. New Mexico confused BYU early with its gambling defensive blitzes, but succumbed to pressure as the Lobos' offense fumbled the ball away five times. Glen Kozlowski was ESPN Player of the Game with three touchdown catches. Lakei Heimuli rushed for 141 yards and two touchdowns. BYU jumped to third place in the UPI poll and fourth in the AP poll.

BRIGHAM YOUNG 42, Texas, El Paso 9
Nov. 3 at Provo
Att. - 62,350

BYU clinched at least a tie for the WAC title with their win over the Miners, the 20th consecutive conference win for the Cougars. UTEP had more first downs (21-20) and a big edge in possession time (41:03 to 18:57) over the Cougars, but couldn't stop BYU's quick-striking offense. Robbie Bosco threw four touchdown passes and Kelly Smith rushed for 106 yards and a TD. The longest BYU scoring drive was nine plays. The Cougars were ranked fourth in both UPI and AP polls after this win.

San Diego State opened the scoring with a field goal, but it was all Cougars from that point. BYU ran up 478 yards in total offense to 165 for the Aztecs. San Diego State had two pass interceptions, but the Cougars picked off three Aztec passes. Return specialist Vai Sihakema returned eight punts to tie a WAC record. Glen Kozlowski caught two touchdown passes. BYU moved up to third in both the AP and UPI polls and was ranked #1 by Sports Illustrated.

BYU gained the number one rating in both wire service polls by beating Utah while other ranking teams were losing. The game was a struggle as BYU committed five turnovers in their own end of the field. Quarterback Robbie Bosco threw three interceptions and fumbled once, but also threw three touchdown passes. Glen Kozlowski caught eight passes for 162 yards and a touchdown. Lakei Heimuli gained 117 yards rushing. This week marked the first time BYU had ever gained the #1 ranking.

Before the largest sporting event crowd ever in Utah, each team attempted 54 passes in a wild game that took over four hours to complete. Vai Sihakema, playing for injured running back Kelly Smith, scored two touchdowns and set up a third with a 56-yard punt return. Quarterback Robbie Bosco set a pair of NCAA records for most games and most consecutive games passing for over 200 yards in a season. Lee Johnson averaged over 50 yards for nine punts and ran for 19 yards on a fake punt. BYU finished its season 12-0, with 23 consecutive wins.

THE MORRELL OF BYU'S STORY

By Ralph Zobell

He hates the Dallas Cowboys and the Los Angeles Dodgers but loves the New York Yankees; loves to catch fish, doesn't like to keep 'em; loves to curl up in a blanket on Thursday nights to watch Magnum P.I. and Hill Street Blues.

But come Saturday afternoon BYU weak safety Kyle Morrell turns into a menace to opposing offenses on the gridiron.

In terms of playing time, three-year starter Kyle Morrell has probably logged more minutes career wise than any other player on this season's roster.

Morrell was one of the fortunate freshmen to earn a spot on the varsity travel squad in 1981. But the 6-2, 184 senior from Bountiful, Utah, has had a lot of difficult tests on and off the field.

Among the most publicized gridiron trials of Morrell is his painful knee injury suffered during the final game of his sophomore season at the University of Utah. And Kyle remembers being humbled at the beginning of last season when Baylor speedster Gerald MacNeil got behind him and burned the Cougars for a touchdown.

But the wiser, battle-proven Cougar co-captain should be ready to assume the all-conference honors which eluded him last season.

"Kyle is as good of defensive back as there is in the area," says BYU's LaVell Edwards. "He should have been all-conference last year."

Morrell has been saturated with athletics all of his life. His father, Mack, was an AAA baseball player and his brother, Guy, was a second-team All-WAC linebacker for Utah in the late 1970's.

Kyle developed into one of Utah's most promising prep athletes at Viewmont High.

When it came time to select a college, only BYU and Utah were interested in his football and baseball talents. His best love for basketball would have to be relegated to the intramural and sandlot level.

Although recruited as a quarterback-defensive back, Kyle never took a snap at BYU and concentrated on defense, where he could be more aggressive. One of his more aggressive tackles is dubbed "Darth Vader" by his roommate, Jay McDonald. McDonald and Morrell share living quarters at former BYU coach Fred Whittingham's residence, but the two gridders share more than a house.

When Morrell was rehabilitating his injured knee, so was McDonald and the two established a friendship.

"I'm one of those few guys who are not afraid to go 100 percent on the football field following a knee operation," says Morrell. But the memory of the knee injury is still vivid to Kyle.

"We were in a goal line defense and I was on the weak side," recalls Kyle of the 1981 BYU-Utah game. "Utah ran to the strong side and I was flowing with the ball when their tight end cracked down on me and their center blocked me up high. I knew instantly my knee was injured."

Since the injury, Kyle, has twice finished number six in defensive scoring. Also since the injury he has increased his interest off the gridiron in the sport of fishing.

This past summer marked his third year traveling with the Great Western Fly Fisherman's Club on a trip to Beaverhead Reservoir near Dillon, Montana. As a fisherman, Kyle has tangled with big brown trout, including a seven-pounder which he caught and released on the Provo River.

He leaves his brand on many offensive players on the gridiron through his hard-hitting style.

Despite this aggressiveness, Kyle has had to learn how to be patient.

"Coach Felt stresses that we need to be patient, but I was always anxious just to get playing on the field," says Kyle. "Now I know through experience that I have to be patient. At Baylor last year I was trying to help out by making a big play. Instead, I got burned for a touchdown and I learned to worry about yourself and not try to make the big play that will happen one in 100 times."

Big plays have come Morrell's way, including a pass interception in last year's Holiday Bowl against Missouri.

Off the playing field, Kyle also concentrates on classes, majoring in commercial physical education. He hopes to join his brother and father selling men's and women's clothing to retail stores.

On the playing field, he likes to yell to get teammates motivated. And, most of all, Kyle doesn't like to lose.

"He is a winner," says Dick Felt, BYU defensive co-ordinator. "He comes to play. I thought he was the best weak safety in the conference last season. He hasn't received the recognition he deserved."

TEAMWORK.

It is the teamwork of its 95,000 employees in 14 divisions and subsidiaries coast-to-coast that has made General Dynamics successful. In San Diego, the teamwork is reflected in the accomplishments of Convair, Electronics, Data Systems and DatagraphiX.

General Dynamics has developed a technologically advanced product network that includes space transportation systems, cruise missiles, automatic test equipment, sophisticated computer hardware and software systems and computer output microfilm systems.

And behind all this technology is a dedicated team of talented people, many of whom have joined us after graduation from universities in the WAC.

Teamwork. At General Dynamics. It means success.

STAN BATES

Stan Bates, former Commissioner of the Western Athletic Conference, has been one of the most important individuals involved in the success of the Holiday Bowl.

Bates has volunteered his time and knowledge as a consultant for the Holiday Bowl since his retirement from the WAC in 1980.

As WAC Commissioner, Bates was instrumental in the planning and success of the first two Holiday Bowl games.

"Stan Bates was one of the guiding lights at the very beginning of the Holiday Bowl, and has continued to share his experience and energy with the Bowl," said John Reid, executive director of the Holiday Bowl. "We all owe Stan a great deal, and I know he is thrilled to have a WAC team ranked Number One coming into the Holiday Bowl."

Bates was named in 1975 to the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics Hall of Fame, and in 1979 he was one of the original honorees inducted into the State of Washington High School Football Coaches Hall of Fame.

First Annual
R. Hastings Garland Jr.
Memorial Scholarship Award

The first annual winner of the R. Hastings Garland Jr. Scholarship was announced yesterday at the Holiday Bowl Kickoff Luncheon.

Under the auspices of the Holiday Bowl, the fund was established earlier this year in the memory of R. Hastings Garland Jr., who was a founder and the President of the 1982 Holiday Bowl.

Garland was an avid supporter and follower of sports of all kinds, but had an especially keen interest in youth and their participation in athletics. Both of his daughters achieved national recognition in age-group swimming competition.

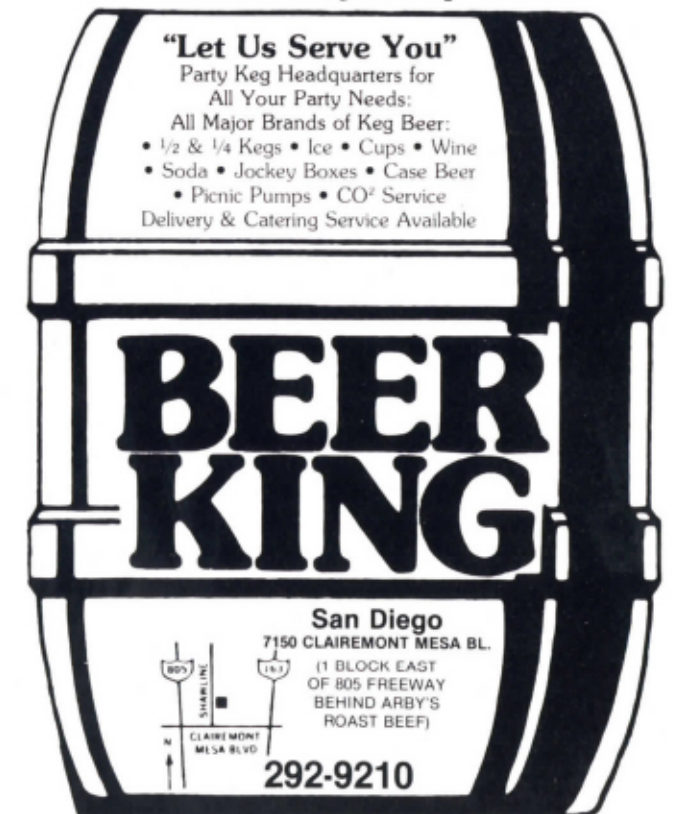

The Garland family feels it is fitting, therefore, to present this annual scholarship award to a high school senior from San Diego County who, in addition to exhibiting a strong background in scholarship, citizenship and extra-curricular activity, is also an active participant in athletics. Degree of athletic achievement is of lesser importance than the participation.

The $1,000 award will be deposited with the student's choice of college or vocational school upon evidence of registration.

The alternative to the 5 plane, 12 taxi, 4 hotel, and 3 rent-a-car Hawaiian vacation.

When you go to places like Maui and Kauai, it's Maui and Kauai that you want to see.

Not airports. Not taxi stands. It's Hawaii. The real Hawaii. White beaches. Blue sea, gentle tradewinds.

That's what we're here for. Welcome aboard an American Hawaii cruise.

We sail from Honolulu and spend 7 days visiting 5 ports on 4 breathtaking islands.

Maui. Kauai. Hawaii. Oahu. Wonderful.

When you arrive at an island, you can spend all of your time seeing that island. You won't have to check in and check out of hotels. You won't have to pack and unpack. You can go on a tour or just explore on your own.

The cruise fare? From only $995 per person, double occupancy. And when you book an American Hawaii cruise, you'll fly from any of 90 mainland cities to Honolulu and back for about half the regular fare.

For more information on cruising aboard either our S.S. Constitution or S.S. Independence (U.S. Registry), see your travel agent. Or call us at (800) 227-3666.

When you get home, it's the islands you'll remember. Not the hotel lobbies.

Holiday Bowl
Honorary
Chairman
John Butler

John Butler has been named as Honorary Chairman of the 1984 Holiday Bowl, an honor which is given annually to a person who has contributed to the San Diego Community in a meaningful manner.

A native San Diegan who graduated from St. Augustine High School, Butler played football for three years at San Diego State (1933-34-35) and was the first Aztec player to receive national recognition when he was selected as a guard on the Associated Press Little All-American team in 1935. Butler was an All-Conference selection all three years.

He served as a naval aviator in the South Pacific for four years during World War II. Following that he attended Stanford Law School.

Butler was Deputy District Attorney in 1948-49, and was Mayor of San Diego from 1951-55. In 1955, he retired from public life and returned to private law practice.

In February of this year, Butler was inducted into the Breitbard Hall of Fame at the San Diego Hall of Champions.

Admiral's Trophy

The sixth presentation of the Admiral's Trophy, made annually to the person from each university participating in the Holiday Bowl who best exemplifies the spirit of "teamwork" as demonstrated by that person's contribution to the success of the football team during the season, was made Wednesday at the Aircraft Carrier Luncheon on the Kitty Hawk.

The creation of the Admiral's Trophy was a logical outgrowth of the close relationship the Holiday Bowl and the United States Navy have enjoyed in their common pursuit of supporting this worthwhile civic venture for the San Diego area. The large trophy is maintained in the Hall of Champions Sports Museum in Balboa Park while each recipient is awarded a replica of the trophy.

The recipient is selected by a ballot of the members of the football team under the supervision of the head coach.

Specifications provided to each coach are as follows:

"A person who, in the opinion of the players, best exemplified the spirit of unselfish dedication, inspiration, and teamwork which resulted in little acclaim for himself but contributed significantly to an outstanding season for his team."

Previous winners include:
1980 - Glen Redd, BYU, and Harvey Armstrong, SMU. 1981 - Jim McMahon, BYU, and Bill Cords, WSU. 1982 - Mike Morgan, BYU, and Glen Cobb, OSU. 1983 - Roger French, BYU, and Russ Ball, Missouri.

STAR IN PROS

Star players from the first six Holiday Bowl games have been making big news in professional football.

Eric Dickerson and Craig James, who starred for SMU in the 1980 game, have made major contributions to the Los Angeles Rams and New England Patriots, respectively. Dickerson was closing in on O. J. Simpson's NFL single-season rushing record at press time, and James, who holds the Holiday Bowl rushing record, was leading the improved Patriots.

Jim McMahon, who played in the 1978, 1980 and 1981 games for BYU and holds most Holiday Bowl passing records, led the Chicago Bears to the NFC Central Division title this season, their first division title in 21 years.

Phil McConkey, who starred for Navy in the first Holiday Bowl, and still holds the record for longest pass reception, is a wide receiver and punt returner for the New York
