(Season Cage Summary)

4/2/91

A season of "pairs" might describe how the 1990-91 BYU men's basketball season could be remembered.

A pair of post-men helped BYU to a 21-13 record, a second place regular season finish at 11-5 in the Western Athletic Conference, a second straight NCAA post-season berth and two consecutive 21-win seasons in the second year of Coach Roger Reid.

Some of BYU's pairs led to the big "one" as the Cougars won the WAC post-season tournament for the first time and earned the automatic berth into the NCAA tournament. In the NCAA tournament BYU played a pair of games, beating fifth-seeded Virginia and losing to third-seeded Arizona.

Not bad accomplishments for a team picked to finish fifth in WAC the pre-season media poll.

Five lettermen will be lost from this year's team, including a pair of freshmen starters and a pair of seniors. Lanky Shawn Bradley and Kenneth Roberts will be departing for two-year Church missions. The Cougars graduate two seniors, both of whom were Academic All-WAC in Steve Schreiner and Scott Moon.

Schreiner ended a career with 1,128 points and 520 rebounds as a three-year starter. His blue-collar work ethic garnered him All-WAC honors and he was twice named the league's player of the week for 30-point games.

Moon entered the starting lineup after 10 games in the season and usually drew the lot of defending the opposition's best player. Moon, the best athlete on the team, was sidelined with a broken hand, but with surgery made a gallant comeback by post-season tournament time and sank the winning basket in overtime against Hawaii in Laramie.

Bradley's 7-6 stature cast a shadow whenever he played as he led the nation with 177 blocked shots. His 14 blocks against Eastern Kentucky in the Cougar Classic tied an NCAA single-season record. He set season blocked shot records for the school, the WAC and a freshman in the NCAA.

Roberts started every game and was most productive at Air Force with 21 points and 10 rebounds when the Falcons triple-teamed Bradley.

A pair of guards return from this year's team in Nathan Call and Mark Heslop to strengthen next season's lineup.

Junior Nathan Call had a good year after just returning from a two-year mission. Call, who was forced into early point-guard duties, responded with a season record assist tally of 164, eclipsing the old record held by Danny Ainge. Call proved he could be dangerous on occasion as evidenced by the six-for-six three-point shooting against Utah in Provo.

Heslop started the first 10 games. Mark came off the bench and scored 15 points in 17 minutes to lift BYU to a 40-27 first half advantage. His three-point shooting gave BYU the advantage in the WAC tournament games against Colorado State and Hawaii.

Joining Heslop in a key role off the bench was sophomore center Gary Trost, who ended up playing small and power forward roles, too. Trost was named to the WAC all-tournament team and averaged 10 points and 6.3 rebounds in the last 18 games of the season.

Spot performances at key times were also turned in by forwards Jared Miller and Jeff Campbell along with walk-on guard Mark Santiago. Miller was ready to push into the starting lineup at the beginning of the WAC season, but had to have knee surgery. Campbell's playing time increased as Miller recuperated, but Jeff will be gone for two years on a Church mission.

Santiago hit 14 free throws in a row at the beginning of the season and spelled Call at point guard.

Reid has nine lettermen returning, including a pair of returned missionaries in 6-9 John Fish and 6-10 Russell Larson. If Reid triplicate his success in the two previous seasons, then BYU could wind up with another NCAA pairing.

The challenge is to replace the duo of 7-6 Bradley and All-WAC Schreiner to face a schedule of LaSalle, James Madison, Princeton, Tulsa and a Florida holiday tournament with Michigan. ###
