Scouting Creighton

Creighton is 3-1 after falling at Texas Christian, 82-77, on Tuesday. Creighton has home wins over North Carolina A&T (72-51), No. 17 Western Kentucky (94-91, 2OT), and Grambling State (102-64). The Bluejays are coached by Dana Altman, who owns a record of 126-87 in his eighth year at CU and is 209-154 in his 12th season as a collegiate head coach (Marshall, 1989-90; Kansas State, 1990-94; Creighton, 1994-present). Altman guided the Jays to a mark of 69-27 and NCAA tournament berths in each of the past three seasons. Tuesday the Jays trailed TCU by as much as nine during the first half before scoring the final five points and cut the deficit to 40-37 at the intermission. The Jays picked up where they left off to open the second stanza to take a 41-40 lead. The momentum of the game changed with 2:15 remaining and Creighton up 73-72. Creighton sophomore Ismael Caro picked off a Junior Blount pass only to miss a breakaway lay-up. In the scramble for the rebound, CU's Terrell Taylor fouled Nucleus Smith. Smith made both free throws and the Horned Frogs never trailed the rest of the way, winning 82-77. In all, the game featured 16 ties and 15 lead changes. Kyle Korver had 15 of his game-high 25 points in the first half and led CU with 25 point, nine rebounds, four assists and four steals. Michael Lindeman chipped in with a career-best 10 points in a losing effort. TCU was paced by 22 points from Bingo Merriex and 18 points and nine rebounds from Marlon Dumont. While Creighton has put together an impressive 18 game home-winning streak, the Jays aren't afraid to do battle on the road. CU is 15-12 in road games over the past three seasons - having gone 8-6 in 1999-00 and 7-5 last season. The Bluejays are the only MVC school to have recorded winning marks on the road both years. If you throw in CU's past two neutral records (5-1 in 1999-00, 3-3 in 2000-01), the Jays are 23-16 (.590) away from the Civic Auditorium. Creighton was 10-8 away from Omaha last season and has a 23-16 (.590) record away from the Civic Auditorium over the past three seasons. Creighton is ranked No. 12 in the Mid-Major Top 25 Poll released by CollegeInsider.com. CU opponents Southern Illinois and Western Kentucky rank fourth and seventh, respectively, in the poll released Dec. 2. BYU opponent's Utah State (#6), Pepperdine (#15), and Weber State (#24) are also ranked in the poll.

BYU vs. Creighton NotablesBobik Played in Last Two BYU-Creighton Games

Ralph Bobik, father of BYU sophomore guard Daniel Bobik, played in the last two games in the BYU-Creighton series as a member of the Jays. He played in 82 games, averaging 10.5 points and 4.8 rebounds from 1971-74.

Daniel Keeps the Tradition Going

Daniel Bobik will make sure a Bobik plays in three straight BYU-Creighton games. The 6-foot-6, 205-pound sophomore is the first player off the bench and is scoring 9.0 points per game, fourth on the team. His season high is 13 points at Utah State.

More Bobik

During his early days at Creighton, Ralph Bobik picked up the nickname, "Crazy Ralph." Perhaps the only thing his coach thought was crazy about Ralph was that he loved to pass so much that he sometimes passed up good opportunities to shoot. At 6-foot-7 and 200 pounds, Ralph was able to play either guard or forward and was a top assist maker. He led the team as a junior with 162 assists compared to the next closest Jay with 50 assists.

1973 Game Notes (last game)

Ralph Bobik played 37 minutes and recorded a double-double with 11 points and 16 assists to lead the Jays to a 99-86 win. He went 5-10 from the floor and 1-1 from the free throw line and added four rebounds. Creighton's Doug Brookins scored 23 to lead all scorers. BYU was led by Greg Snow with 20 points while Belmont Anderson added 18. BYU All-American football player Gifford Nielsen, whose son Gifford is a member of this year's Cougar team, had two points and two rebounds in 11 minutes. It was the first of two years he played both basketball and football. Creighton shot 52.9 percent from the floor while BYU shot a sizzling 59.6 percent in the loss. BYU made 12-15 free throws and Creighton 9-12.

1971 Game Notes (last game in Provo)

Ralph Bobik played 29 minutes with 11 points and three assists in the Marriott Center. BYU started quickly in the four-quarter game, getting out to a 28-15 lead after the first quarter. BYU never looked back to run away with the 96-68 win to improve to 4-0 in the Marriott Center. BYU went on to win all 12 home games in the first year of the Marriott Center. All-American Kresimir Cosic led BYU with 23 points, 15 rebounds and six assists. Five Cougars finished in double-digit points, including current NBA official Bernie Fryer, who had 16 and Phil Tollestrup, who added 14. Tollestrup coached current BYU freshman Jimmy Balderson at Magrath High School in Alberta, Canada.

Cougar Defense Shines in Win over Weber State Wednesday

PROVO, Utah (Dec. 5, 2001) - Defense was the key for BYU as the Cougars extended their home win streak to 22 with a 65-47 win over Weber State. BYU led the entire game, and the closest the Wildcats came as a tie at 2-2 in the first half. The Cougars established a 14-point lead at the half, thanks to four three-pointers. In the second half the defense allowed only 18 points after surrendering 29 to the Wildcats in the first half. The Cougar defense came up big, allowing only 47 points, the least amount of points allowed this season after holding San Diego to 59 points. "Tonight we were much quicker to attack penetration," said BYU head coach Steve Cleveland. "Our No. 1 objective was to stop their dribble penetration. This was our best defensive effort of the season." BYU's defense shut down the Wildcat penetration, leaving Weber State with a 35 percent shot percentage and only 2-for-12 from behind the arc. "The difference tonight was Matt Montague, who is finally going to the basket," Cleveland said. In a team leading 39 minutes of play, Matt Montague scored eight points, all in the first half, and recorded a game-high seven assists. Eric Nielsen and Mark Bigelow led the Cougars in scoring with 14 points each. Bigelow made two three-pointers and pulled down seven rebounds, including three offensive rebounds. Nielsen led BYU with eight rebounds and made his first three-pointer of the season. Nielsen, who only made one three-pointer last season, has nine career three-point shots. Freshmen Jimmy Balderson raised the bar in his young career, recording a career-high six points in a career-high 13 minutes. Jon Carlisle made his debut this season with three minutes of play in the first half. Jermaine Boyett and Chris Woods led Weber State with 12 points each. Boyett finished with four steals and five turnovers. The Cougars extended their home win streak against the Wildcats to 14-0 and 18-9 overall. "We got beat in a very tough place to play," said WSU head coach Joe Cravens. "They've got a pretty good team here."

Hansen Off to Fast Start

Shooting guard Travis Hansen is second in scoring (17.2 ppg) and is BYU's top rebounder (8.8 rpg). He had seven points and six boards Wednesday vs. Weber State. He is shooting 43.1 percent from the floor, 44.4 percent on threes, and 75.9 percent from the line. He averaged 20 points and 7.5 rebounds in BYU's two games last week to lead the Cougars in both categories. He shot 45 percent from the floor, including 55.6 percent on threes, and 87.5 percent from the free throw line. Hansen scored a career-high 26 points against Utah State Saturday in BYU's overtime loss. He went 10-15 from the floor, including a 3-5 from three-point range, and was 3-4 from the line. He added a team-high five rebounds and one assist in 38 minutes. His 10 field goals, three treys and 38 minutes were all career highs. Hansen extended a string of 13 straight made free throws dating back to the season-opener in San Diego before missing one of his four attempts at Utah State. He was 4-4 at UC Santa Barbara and 7-8 for the week. Hansen had his second straight double-double with 14 points and 10 rebounds at UC Santa Barbara. He had 18 points and a career-high 15 rebounds to lead BYU to a win over Arizona State in BYU's only home game. The two double-doubles are the first of his career. Hansen's 15 rebounds vs. ASU is the most ever by a BYU guard and the most by a Cougar since Justin Widauer, a center, grabbed 15 boards for BYU at Texas Christian in the 1996-97 season. Hansen has scored 20-plus points twice in BYU's five games and has a team-leading two double-doubles.

Bigelow Playing Big

Mark Bigelow averages 18.0 points per game to lead all BYU scorers. He had 14 points and a season-high 7 rebounds vs. Weber State Wednesday. Bigelow averaged 18.0 points per game last week. He scored a team-high 15 at UC Santa Barbara, including 4-6 on threes, and had 21 points at Utah State, with three treys. He made 7-13 threes in the two games, a 53.8 success rate. He also shot 90 percent from the free throw line, going 9-10. He added 3.5 rebounds per game. Bigelow scored a season-high 31 points in BYU's win over Arizona State last Saturday. It was the second time Bigelow has totaled more than 30 points. His career high is 33 points at Washington State as a freshman during the 1998-99 season. Against ASU in the last game in Provo, Bigelow made shots from long-range, mid-range and inside, shooting 52.9 percent from the floor, going 9-17, including 4-of-8 three-point attempts. He missed only one free throw in 10 attempts to shoot 90 percent from the charity stripe. Bigelow contributed all over the court with four assists (second to point guard Matt Montague's six) and three rebounds to go along with his sharp shooting.

Nielsen Stepping into New Role

Senior Eric Nielsen will play a larger offensive role for BYU this year. He is third on the team in scoring (11.6 ppg). He has scored 14 points in each of the last two games. He had a career-high 19 points vs. ASU (his previous best was 17 against Utah in the 2000 MWC tournament in Las Vegas). He is shooting 57.5 percent from the floor. He went 8-11 from the floor vs. ASU. His eight field goals made was a new personal best. Last year the most shots he took in a game was eight, when he averaged only 3.8 shot attempts per game. He ranks third all-time at BYU in career field goal percentage. He made two big buckets from the post late in game to stave off an ASU comeback attempt. He had season lows of three points and four rebounds last Wednesday in a foul trouble-shortened 34 minutes at UC Santa Barbara.

Senior Leader at the Point

Senior point guard Matt Montague had eight points and seven assists vs. Weber State and a season-high 10 assists at Utah State, the most assists he has recorded since dishing out 10 assists as a sophomore vs. Southern Illinois on March 20, 2000 in BYU's second round NIT victory. Montague's career high is 11, which he record vs. Weber State as a freshman during the 1996-97 season. Montague has led BYU in assists in each of his three previous seasons and averages a Mountain West Conference best 7.4 assists this year. He scored 11 points and had a game-high eight assists at USD in the season-opener. Montague reached double-digit points only once last year in 33 games, scoring 12 points at the University of San Francisco.

Bobik Getting Time

After averaging 10 minutes off the bench last year while playing in 28 of 33 games, sophomore Daniel Bobik will get more playing time this season. Playing a sixth-man role, he is averaging 24 minutes, 9.0 points and 3.4 rebounds. He leads BYU with seven steals. He had 9 points, 2 rebounds, 2 assists, 2 steals and 1 block in 26 minutes vs. Weber State. He had 13 points, 4 rebounds and 3 assists in 25 minutes at Utah State. He played a career-high 33 minutes with 12 points and four rebounds in the season-opener at USD.

Mark Bigelow leads the way with 14 threes (14-30, .467), followed by Travis Hansen is 8-18 (.444) and Daniel Bobik is 7-19 (.368). Nielsen is 1-2 on the year after going 1-3 all of last year. On the year, BYU maintains a rebounding edge with a 35.0 average compared to 31.8. BYU's 42-26 rebounding advantage over ASU in its home opener was the third worst margin suffered by ASU head coach Rob Evan's in his coaching career and his worst at ASU.

For Openers

BYU won its season-opener for the fifth straight year. The Cougars are 3-0 at home and 2-0 on the road in season-openers under coach Steve Cleveland. Both road wins have been in San Diego. Before this year's win over the University of San Diego, the Cougars defeating San Diego State in Cleveland's BYU debut in 1997. With this year's win over ASU, BYU has now won its last four home openers and is 4-1 in home-openers under Steve Cleveland.

Six Games In

BYU started the year 2-0 for the third straight season. After five games, BYU has had a winning record three straight years (4-1 in 1999-00 and 3-2 in 2000-01 and this year). After six games, BYU was 4-2 last year, 5-1 in 1999-2000, 2-4 in 1998-99 and 1-5 in Cleveland's first year in 1997-98.

Point Putting in Time

Starting point guard Matt Montague is averaging a team-high 39.4 minutes per game. He played a career-high 42 minutes in BYU's overtime loss at Utah State. Freshman back-up Shawn Oponui sprained ligaments in his thumb against Utah State after three minutes and sat out vs. Weber State. He should be able to play Saturday vs. Creighton.

Weber State won the Big Island Invitational with wins over Louisiana State, Wisconsin and Colorado State. BYU faces both Weber State and Creighton this week in Provo.

Seven Conference Champions

Seven conference champions, including Pac-10 champion Stanford, and 12 games against teams who qualified for postseason play last year highlight BYU's 2001-02 men's basketball schedule. Other conference champions include Creighton of the Missouri Valley Conference, Utah State of the Big West, Cal State Northridge of the Big Sky (playing in Big West this year), Southern Utah of the Mid-Continent Conference and fellow co-champions Utah and Wyoming of the Mountain West Conference. Pepperdine and New Mexico also advanced to post-season play in the NIT tournament. Pepperdine placed second in the WCC behind NCAA qualifier Gonzaga and earned a 22-9 record, including an NIT win in Laramie over Wyoming. The Waves enter their first year under former NBA player and coach Paul Westphal. New Mexico also advanced in the NIT, losing in the second round to Pepperdine. Including two exhibition contests, BYU has 29 games, including 17 in the Marriott Center, on its schedule. The MWC tournament is Mar. 7-9, at the Thomas & Mack Center in Las Vegas.

The two losses both came during the first road trip of the season at San Francisco and Arizona State. Stanford, Creighton, Pepperdine, Cal State Northridge, San Diego and Fort Lewis are all new opponents this year, with San Diego and Fort Lewis playing BYU for the first time. BYU faces teams from seven different conferences in 2001-02, including three West Coast Conference teams in San Diego, San Francisco and Pepperdine; three Big Sky teams in Cal State Northridge, Weber State and Idaho; two Pac-10 teams in Stanford and Arizona State; two Big West teams in Utah State and UCSanta Barbara; and one team each from the Missouri Valley Conference (Creighton), Mid-Continent Conference (Southern Utah), and Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference (Fort Lewis).

2001-02 BYU Outlook

With the loss of four starters from last year's 24-9 Mountain West Conference championship team, coach Steve Cleveland has some significant holes to fill in 2001-02.

Senior forward Eric Nielsen is the lone starter returning from last year but Mark Bigelow, the 1999 WAC Freshman of the Year, returns after serving a two-year mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Three others - senior guard Matt Montague, junior forward Travis Hansen and sophomore forward Bart Jepsen - have starting experience.

Bigelow, who returned from an LDS Church mission in June, was BYU's top scorer (15.0) and rebounder (6.3) as a swingman before departing on a mission to Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. He has grown an inch to 6-foot-7 and has been working on getting back into basketball condition since his return.

Nielsen provides senior leadership as a three-year starter. He averaged 6.2 points and 3.8 rebounds last season and will take on a larger role in 2001-02. Senior point guard Matt Montague adds valuable leadership on the court having led the team in assists during each of his three previous seasons. Travis Hansen should play a significant role in 2001-02 as a scorer, rebounder and defender. The athletic forward earned a starting assignment last year before being injured. Bart Jepsen started nine times as a freshman in 1998. He redshirted last year to recover from a broken leg sustained during his two-year mission.

Even though the Cougars lose three starters from the perimeter, including all-conference guards Terrell Lyday and Trent Whiting, the Cougars should be strong on the outside this year. Hansen, Bigelow and Daniel Bobik will likely split up most of the minutes on the wings. Bigelow is a proven player and Hansen has the ability to be a top scorer. Bobik, a 6-foot-6 sophomore, showed signs of his potential with season highs of 16 points, six rebounds and three assists last year in a reserve role. Freshmen Jimmy Balderson, a 6-foot-6 guard from Alberta, Canada, could also earn time. He averaged 34 points in high school last year.

At the point, Montague will see the majority of the minutes. Montague is an experience leader with 57 starts while averaging 25.8 minutes in 92 career games. He has led the Cougars in assists during each of his three seasons. Freshman Shawn Oponui is an explosive athlete who has the potential to earn significant playing time. Terry Nashif, an all-state point from Vancouver, Wash., is a quick, intelligent freshman who could also contribute.

Cleveland's biggest uncertainties are in the post. Gone is MWCMVP Mekeli Wesley, the team's leading scorer and rebounder. In addition, three other players who would have played a strong role inside this season will be gone for all or part of the year. Reserve center Derek Dawes (6-11 sophomore) decided this summer he will leave on an LDS Church mission and two-sport athlete Jacob Chrisman (6-8 sophomore) announced during the summer his intention to red-shirt basketball this year to concentrate on baseball. With baseball team workouts now complete, he has just this week started practicing with the basketball team. There is the possibility he could play this season. Forward Jesse Pinegar (6-9 redshirt freshman) was cleared to practice and play the last week of November after shoulder surgery in June. Nielsen will play the 4-position. A good shooter, he shot 61 percent from the floor on mostly mid-range jumpers last year. Pinegar is a versatile and talented offensive scorer with three-point range, and Jepsen is a strong rebounder and defender. If Chrisman decides to play he could be a significant contributor.

Freshman Jared Jensen and Dan Howard (7-0 sophomore) will get a chance to prove themselves at the center position. Jensen is an effective scorer with his back to the basket and could get time on the court at both post positions. Carlisle, a 6-10 transfer who last played on Utah's Final Four team in 1998 as the primary backup to current Cleveland Cavaliers center Michael Doleac, has the talent to be a strong contributor but could red-shirt while trying to get back into playing shape after returning from his LDS church mission. Jepsen could also prove a factor at center. At 6-foot-9, he is a physical player who runs the floor well and is a solid rebounder and defender.

MARK BIGELOW / 6-7 • 190 • sophomore • guard/forward

CAPSULE – Bigelow could be one of the Cougars top players and among the top performers in the Mountain West if he returns to his pre-mission form ... He was BYU's leading scorer (15.0) and rebounder (6.3) in 1998-99 before going on a two-year LDS Church mission to Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. ... He should play a significant role this season if he can regain his physical conditioning ... He returned from his mission in June having grown an inch to 6-7 ... He returned at 185 points ... He could play some point but is primarily a wing player ... He enrolled at BYU for his freshman season after returning from an LDS Church mission to the Dominican Republic ... He was one of the first recruits to sign with BYU under Steve Cleveland.

A hard worker, he has a knack for the ball and could be a factor in inside this year, especially with the Cougars' losses in the post ... He has not had the opportunity to play a lot of consistent minutes (he played a career-best 12 minutes at San Francisco last year) since last playing for his high school team in 1996.

Bart Jepsen / 6-9 • 235 • redshirt sophomore • forward

CAPSULE: Jepsen redshirted last season after returning from an LDS Church mission ... He had suffered a severe break of his leg on his mission ... He will likely play a significant role in the middle as a rebounder and defender who can run the floor well ... A strong physical presence and good rebounder, he could play a role similar to that of outgoing senior Nate Knight ... Before a two-year LDS Church mission, Jepsen started nine times while playing 27 games as a freshman in 1997-98 in Cleveland's first season ... He is the younger brother of former Cougar center Bret Jepsen.

He will be out until at least December and perhaps longer to recover from the surgery to his left (non dominant) shoulder ... The latest surgery should completely repair the injury ... A mobile, athletic player, he can play the 3, 4 or 5 positions and has excellent range beyond the three-point line ... He is an outstanding passer and a very skilled young offensive post player ... He made significant strides in the weight room this past season before the injury ... He has the tools to play a significant role once healthy.

Newcomer Profiles

Jared Jensen / 6-9 • 245 • freshman • forward/center

Jensen earned the 2001 Deseret News Mr. Basketball Award after scoring 25.8 points and pulling down 13 rebounds per game this past season at Fremont High School. He averaged 17 points and 10 rebounds per game as a junior when he also earned Salt Lake Tribune and Deseret News All-State honors. He is a talented offensive player in the low-post who can also score with his jumper. He played center in high school but will likely play power forward in college. He should get the opportunity to play as a freshman with the loss of 2001 Mountain West Conference Player of the Year Mekeli Wesley in the post.

Shawn Oponui / 5-11 • 170 • freshman • point guard

Oponui averaged 21.7 points and 6.1 assists as an all-state point guard at Orem High School in 1999 before leaving for an LDS Church mission. A strong offensive player and solid defender, Oponui shot nearly 91 percent from the free throw line, third best in state history, and 40 percent on three-point attempts. His 401 assists put him on the state's top-10 all-time list. He is an athletic point guard who has excellent open court passing skills and is an outstanding three-point shooter. His ability to break defenses down with the dribble should create offensive opportunities for his teammates. He loves pushing the ball up the floor as a true point guard with great court vision. A super passer and great penetrator, Oponui should have an immediate impact on the program with the loss of all-MWC guards Trent Whiting and Terrell Lyday and the uncertain return of Michael Vranes, who sat out last year with an injury.

Jon Carlisle / 6-10 • 260 • sophomore • center

Carlisle is from Salt Lake City and last played on Utah's Final Four team in 1998 as the primary backup to current Cleveland Cavaliers center Michael Doleac. He averaged 2.4 points and 2.1 rebounds in 10.3 minutes per game. He averaged 17.3 points and 10.3 rebounds at Brighton High School in 1997 and was one of three players, including new Cougar teammate Shoff, to earn Region 4 Tri-Player of the Year honors. He is working out to get back into playing shape. His playing weight as a freshman was 223 pounds. He may redshirt this season.

Jimmy Balderson / 6-6 • 200 • freshman • guard

Balderson is a 6-foot-6 combo guard who averaged 34 points, 9.2 rebounds and 6.8 assists while leading Magrath High School in Alberta, Canada to a 32-3 record this past season ... He has excellent range from the three-point line and has good size ... He shot 54 percent from the floor and 91 percent from the free throw line at Magrath High ... A skilled young player, he could factor in on perimeter this year ... He plans to leave in the spring on a two-year mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Terry Nashif / 5-10 • 165 • freshman • guard

Nashif is a freshman who served a mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints after his senior year in 1999 at Evergreen High School in Vancouver, Wash. ... A smart player who can put down the three-pointer, he knows how to run a team and is an excellent distributor of the ball ... He could factor in at the point along with fellow freshman Shawn Oponui and senior Matt Montague

Transfers Sitting Out 2001-02

Jake Shoff / 6- 8, • 255 • junior • forward/center

Shoff, from Alpine, Utah, started 19 of 28 games last year at Weber State, scoring 7.4 points and pulling down a team-best 6.0 rebounds while shooting 56 percent from the floor. Prior to serving a mission to Honduras, Shoff averaged 5.5 points and 4.6 rebounds his freshman season with the Wildcats. He averaged 16 points, 10 rebounds and four assists his senior year at American Fork High School.

Ricky Bower / 6-4 • 185 • junior • combo guard

Bower played 14 minutes per game last year at Wisconsin and averaged 4.3 points. An excellent shooter, he shot 44 percent from three-point range and 81 percent from the line. Prior to serving a mission to Poland, Bower played his freshman season at Ricks College, where he was named Region 8 MVP after averaging 16 points and making 48 percent of his three-point attempts. Brother of former Cougar guard Danny Bower, the Meridian, Idaho, native prepped at Skyview High School and was named the state's Mr. Basketball, averaging 26.7 points, 6.4 rebounds and 5.7 assists per game.

STEVE CLEVELAND / head coach

Steve Cleveland enters his fifth season at the helm of the Cougars in 2001-02. In his four seasons at BYU, Cleveland has proven to be a first-rate recruiter, an excellent coach and player developer, and above all, a winner.

Last year Cleveland guiding BYU to its first NCAA tournament bid since 1995, its first conference regular season title since 1993 and its first conference tournament championship since 1992. While rebuilding a program that finished 1-25 before his arrival, he has improved the Cougars each season, posting records of 9-21, 12-16, 22-11 and 24-9. The Cougars also improved upon an NIT season in 1999-2000 to earn an NCAA berth last year.

The past two seasons both rank among of the school's best year's ever in terms of wins dating back to the Cougars first season in 1902. In fact, only five BYU teams have ever recorded more wins than last year's 24-9 team and only seven have improved upon the 22-11 record in 1999-2000.

The Cougars have improved their conference record each year under Cleveland (4-10 first year; 6-8 second year; 7-7 third year; 10-4 last year). The Cougars are an impressive 29-2 at home the past two years and have improved on the road with 17 away/neutral wins the past two seasons. BYU was a perfect 15-0 in the Marriott Center last year.

Cleveland's teams have come on strong at the end of each season. Last year BYU won five straight games on the road to secure a share of the MWC regular season title and earn the automatic NCAA bid by claiming the MWC Tournament in Las Vegas. The Cougars won six of their last eight games the prior season, including two MWC tournament wins and two NIT victories. In Cleveland's first year, BYU completed a rare sweep of New Mexico and UTEP on the road to earn a WAC tournament berth. The road sweep of New Mexico and UTEP was the first for BYU since 1990-91 and the 83-62 upset of No.15-ranked New Mexico in the Pit ended the Lobos' 41-game home winning streak. In Cleveland's second season the Cougars had a blowout win over UTEP before a 90-74 conference tournament upset victory over TCU to achieve BYU's first conference tournament win since 1994.

Cleveland has improved BYU each year in post season as well. After guided his team to the 2000 Mountain West Conference Tournament finals and the quarterfinals of the NIT in 2000, last year he coached the Cougars to the 2001 MWC Tournament Championship and an NCAA berth.

As a recruiter, Cleveland has made a similar impact on BYU's program. Cleveland recruits have proven they are not only committed to Cleveland's vision but also are the kind of players to help make that vision a reality in Provo. Cleveland and his staff have been able to attract top talent from Utah and beyond. BYU has had one of the conference's top players in each of his four seasons. Last year Trent Whiting transferred from Utah even though he had to give up a year of eligibility. He was named to the MWC Newcomer Team and earned All-MWC Second Team honors while averaging 14.2 points. In 1999-2000, Terrell Lyday was the MWC Newcomer of the Year and was fourth in the league in scoring with a BYU-best 17.1 ppg. He followed in the footsteps of Mark Bigelow, who led the Cougars in scoring (15.0) and rebounding (6.3) while being named the Western Athletic Conference Pacific Division Freshman of the Year and second-team All-WAC in 1998-99 before departing for a two-year LDS Church mission. Ron Selleaze transferred to BYU in Cleveland's first season and earned WAC

Newcomer of the Year and second-team all-conference honors.

He signed a multi-year contract extension in October. Before taking the helm at BYU on March 11, 1997, Cleveland compiled a 157-77 record at Fresno City College in Fresno, Calif. Cleveland was named coach of the year two times while at FCC and led the Rams to post-season playoffs in each of his seven seasons in Fresno. Cleveland coached 10 years at Fresno's Clovis West High School, compiling a 180-70 record.

PLAYING CAREER

Cleveland played college basketball at UC Irvine and was the Anteaters' MVP and leading scorer his senior season in 1975-76. Prior to attending UC Irvine, Cleveland was Fresno City College's Most Outstanding Player in 1973-74. Cleveland received a B.A. degree in social science from UC Irvine in 1976, and received a Master's in education administration from Fresno Pacific in 1979.

PERSONAL

Cleveland, 49, was born in the Los Angeles area and spent most of his life in Fresno, Calif. He served an LDS Church mission to England from 1971-73. Cleveland was the first head basketball or football coach at BYU to have served a church mission. Cleveland and his wife Kip have three children: sons Casey (23) and Skyler (20) and daughter Katie (11).
